3	Front camera	4	Rear camera
5	Speaker	6	Power key
7	Volume key	8	Card slot
9	Composite headphone/ audio-input jack	10	Microphone
11	Micro-USB Port (with the charging function)

Installing the SIM and microSD Cards
1. Open the SIM and microSD card slot cover.

2. Insert the SIM card with its gold contacts facing up, as indicated in the preceding figure. Push the card inward until it clicks into place.

   📄 HUAWEI MediaPad is only compatible with standard SIM cards, whose dimensions are 0.76 mm x 15 mm x 25 mm. Inserting a SIM card with other dimensions will damage your HUAWEI MediaPad.

3. Insert the microSD card with its gold contacts facing up, as indicated in the preceding figure. Push the card inward until it clicks into place.

4. Replace the card slot cover.

   ⚠ Do not remove the card slot cover from the tablet.

To remove the microSD card when HUAWEI MediaPad is powered on, access the Home screen, and touch 📷 > Storage > Unmount SD card. Then open the microSD card slot cover and gently push the microSD card. The microSD card then pops out.

Charging the Battery

1. Connect your charger to the provided USB cable.

2. Connect the charger to a power outlet.

3. Connect your HUAWEI MediaPad to the USB cable to start charging the battery.

With HUAWEI MediaPad powered on, the battery icon in the status bar turns 📱 when the battery is fully charged.

Battery Usage Precautions

> If HUAWEI MediaPad has not been used for a long time or the battery power is extremely low, you may not be able to power it on immediately after you begin charging the battery. This is normal. Allow the battery to charge for a few minutes before attempting to power your HUAWEI MediaPad on.

> The battery is rechargable. Rechargeable batteries have a limited number of charge cycles. When your HUAWEI MediaPad is used for a long time, its standby time will decrease. To maximize its lifespan, do not charge the battery too frequently.

> The time required to fully charge the battery depends on the ambient temperature and the age of the battery.

Powering On or Off

Powering On

Press and hold the power key until HUAWEI MediaPad vibrates.

If HUAWEI MediaPad has not been used for a long time or the battery level is low, you may not be able to power it on immediately after you start charging the battery. Allow the battery to charge for a few minutes before attempting to use it.

1. From the Home screen, touch 🔯 > Security > Screen lock.
2. Select a locking method and follow the onscreen instructions.

With a screen lock set, if HUAWEI MediaPad is idle for a specified period of time, it automatically locks its screen. You can also press the Power key to lock the screen.

5 Internet Connection

HUAWEI MediaPad brings you into a new age of wireless Internet surfing. Let's take a look at how this works.

Wi-Fi Network

A Wi-Fi network is a wireless local area network. Wi-Fi devices can maintain a high-speed connection to the Wi-Fi network even when they are moving. Wi-Fi networks are widely applied in homes and public places, such as hotels and libraries.

Connecting to a Wi-Fi Network

You can connect HUAWEI MediaPad to a Wi-Fi network and access the Internet through the Wi-Fi network.

To do so, ensure that a wireless network is available. When you use HUAWEI MediaPad at your home, turn on the wireless router to set up a Wi-Fi hotspot. When you use HUAWEI MediaPad in a public place, such as a library or a shopping mall, there may be open Wi-Fi networks.

HUAWEI MediaPad's power consumption increases after you turn on the Wi-Fi function. To save battery, disable the Wi-Fi function when you do not need to use it.

1. From the Home screen, touch 🔯 > Wi-Fi.
2. Turn on Wi-Fi. Your device then scans for available Wi-Fi networks in range.
3. Select the desired Wi-Fi network.

   > You can connect to open Wi-Fi networks directly.

> For an encrypted Wi-Fi network, enter the password when prompted.

When HUAWEI MediaPad is connected to a Wi-Fi network, you can touch its name to view connection details, such as the network speed, encryption mode, and IP address.

With Wi-Fi turned on, after HUAWEI MediaPad returns to the coverage of a previously connected Wi-Fi network, it automatically reconnects to the Wi-Fi network.

Turning On Data Services

You can turn on HUAWEI MediaPad's data services to access the Internet using your service provider's network.

Using data services may incur charges. For details, contact your service provider.

1. From the Home screen, touch 📷.
2. Under WIRELESS & NETWORKS, touch More… > Mobile networks.
3. Select the Data enabled check box.

Turning Off Data Services

To save your data usage, turn off HUAWEI MediaPad's data services when Wi-Fi networks are available.

1. From the Home screen, touch 📷.
2. Under WIRELESS & NETWORKS, touch More… > Mobile networks.
3. Clear the Data enabled check box.

Portable Wi-Fi Hotspot

If HUAWEI MediaPad has Internet access, it can work as a Wi-Fi hotspot, converting mobile signals into Wi-Fi signals and allowing Wi-Fi devices to access the Internet.

If you have subscribed to a service plan with unlimited or abundant data traffic, you can share your HUAWEI MediaPad's data usage with other devices.
Wi-Fi

Wi-Fi

Sharing Data Using Wi-Fi Hotspot

1. From the Home screen, touch ⚙️.
2. Under WIRELESS & NETWORKS， touch More… > Tethering & portable hotspot.
3. Select the Portable Wi-Fi hotspot check box.

4. Touch Portable Wi-Fi hotspot settings > Configure Wi-Fi hotspot. Then follow the onscreen instructions to configure the SSID, password, and other settings.

You can then search for HUAWEI MediaPad's SSID from Wi-Fi enabled devices to access the Wi-Fi network set up by HUAWEI MediaPad.

USB Tethering

You can share HUAWEI MediaPad's network connection using USB tethering.

This function enables devices to share a network connection through a USB connection.
To use USB tethering, ensure that HUAWEI MediaPad has Internet access.

Using USB tethering may incur data traffic charges, depending on which version of HUAWEI MediaPad you purchased. For details about traffic fees, contact your service provider.

Sharing HUAWEI MediaPad's Data Connection

Connect HUAWEI MediaPad to a computer using a USB cable. You can then access the Internet from the computer using HUAWEI MediaPad's data connection.

📄 To use USB tethering, ensure that your HUAWEI MediaPad has Internet access.

1. Connect HUAWEI MediaPad's multifunctional port to the computer's USB port using the provided USB cable.

2. From the Home screen, touch 🔘.

3. Under WIRELESS & NETWORKS, touch More… > Tethering & portable hotspot.

4. Select the USB tethering check box. After a USB tethering connection is set up, you can access the Internet using the computer.

📄 You cannot use your HUAWEI MediaPad's USB tethering function and access its microSD card as a mass storage device at the same time.

21 Personal Information and Data Security

The use of some functions or third-party applications on your device could result in your personal information and data being lost or becoming accessible to others. Several measures are recommended to help you protect personal and confidential information.

> Place your device in a safe area to prevent it from unauthorized use.

> Set your device screen to lock and create a password or unlock pattern to open it.

> Periodically back up personal information kept on your memory card, or stored in your device memory. If you change to a different device, be sure to move or delete any personal information on your old device.

> If you are worried about viruses when you receive messages or emails from a stranger, you can delete them without opening them.

> If you use your device to browse the Internet, avoid websites that might pose a security risk to avoid theft of your personal information.

> If you use services such as Wi-Fi or Bluetooth, set passwords for these services to prevent unauthorized access. When these services are not in use, turn them off.

> Install or upgrade device security software and regularly scan for viruses.

> Be sure to obtain third-party applications from a legitimate source. Downloaded third-party applications should be scanned for viruses.

> Install security software or patches released by Huawei or third-party application providers.

> Some applications require and transmit location information. As a result, a third-party may be able to share your location information.

> Your device may provide detection and diagnostic information to third-party application providers. Third party vendors use this information to improve their products and services.

> If you have concerns about the security of your personal information and data, please contact mobile@huawei.com.
