Battery

HTC Flyer uses a rechargeable battery. How long the battery can last before it needs recharging depends on how you use HTC Flyer. Among these are the features and accessories you use (for example, leaving your Bluetooth® connection always on uses more power). Frequent web browsing also uses up a lot of battery power.

Charging the battery

The battery is partially charged when shipped. Before you turn on and start using HTC Flyer, it is recommended that you charge the battery. Some batteries perform best after several full charge/discharge cycles.

1. Only the power adapter provided in the box must be used to charge the battery.
2. Plug the power adapter into the USB connector of HTC Flyer.
3. Plug in the power adapter to an electrical outlet to start charging the battery.

As the battery is being charged, the notification LED shows a solid orange light. The light turns to solid green when HTC Flyer is fully charged.

When you charge the battery while HTC Flyer is on, the charging battery icon is displayed in your tablet’s status bar. After the battery has been fully charged, the charging battery icon turns to a full battery icon.

As a safety precaution, the battery stops charging when it overheats.

Whether for work or play, we’ve made something so common yet useful as a pen seamlessly fit your mobile experience. On HTC Flyer, use the tablet pen to take notes, draw pictures, sign contracts, and more.

In some regions, the pen may not be included in the box. Contact your service provider or retail store for details on purchasing the pen.

What your tablet pen can do

Accounts and sync

About online accounts

HTC Flyer can sync with popular online social networking and email accounts. The information you can get includes:

- Gmail, Exchange ActiveSync, and other POP3/IMAP email.
- Google and Exchange ActiveSync contacts, as well as your friends’ contact information in Facebook and their Twitter profiles.
- Calendar events from your Google Account(s), from Exchange ActiveSync, and from your Facebook account.
- Status updates and links shared by your friends and yourself on social networks such as Facebook and Twitter.
- Flickr and Facebook photo uploads.

You can set up your Exchange ActiveSync and POP3/IMAP email accounts on HTC Flyer either in the Mail app or the Accounts & sync settings.

Synchronizing with a Google Account

Signing in to your Google Account lets you sync Gmail and your Google contacts and calendars between HTC Flyer and the Web. You also need to sign in to a Google Account to use Google apps such as Google Talk and Android Market.

If you skipped adding a Google Account when you first set up HTC Flyer, you may encounter problems when using some Google apps. If these problems persist, you may need to factory reset HTC Flyer and enter your Google Account details when you set up HTC Flyer again.

Adding more Google Accounts

You can add more than one Google Account. However, subsequent Google Accounts can only sync contacts, emails, and calendar events. Other Google services use the first Google Account you added.

1. From the Home screen, press 📞, and then tap Settings > Accounts & sync.
2. Tap Add account > Google.
3. Follow the onscreen instructions to sign in to an account or create a new account.

If you don’t have an alternate email address or cannot access the email account you used to create your Google Account, you can reset your Google Account after 24 hours by answering the security question for password recovery.

Social

Facebook for HTC Sense

If you signed in to your Facebook account when you turned on and set up HTC Flyer for the first time, that means your Facebook account is linked to Facebook for HTC Sense on HTC Flyer.

With Facebook for HTC Sense, you can:

- See all your Facebook contacts and their instant status updates in People.

  When you tap a contact on the All tab, slide to the Updates and events tab to see updates such as posted status messages, uploads, and profile changes.

  When there is a notification of the contact’s birthday, you can tap the notification to send a greeting.

- See Facebook photos right on the Gallery app.

  You can also upload one or more photos to Facebook, then tag and add captions that go with it.

  When you’re viewing the albums of a Facebook friend, you can also share a link to a particular album, or comment on the album photos.
Facebook app

The Facebook app lets you keep up and stay close with your friends in Facebook. It offers most of the features that you are familiar with when using Facebook on your computer.

With the Facebook app, you can:

- Share your thoughts and check other people’s status updates.
- View your friends list and write on someone’s wall.

Add the Facebook widget to the Home screen so you can easily post updates and check status updates of your friends.

What’s the difference between Facebook app and Facebook for HTC Sense?

- Facebook for HTC Sense is not a standalone app. It is integrated in People, Friend Stream, Gallery, and Calendar to give you up-to-date information about your Facebook contacts (their status updates, shared links, and photos) in these apps.
- The Facebook app is a standalone app. Use this app to do most of the things that you would do when you’re using your computer’s web browser to access your Facebook account, such as adding a friend and sending Facebook messages.
- The two do not share the same login credentials. Signing in to Facebook for HTC Sense does not sign you in to the Facebook app and vice versa. If you want to use the same Facebook account for both, you’ll have to sign in to both using the same login credentials.

If you have more than one Facebook account, you may sign in to the Facebook app using your second account, since the Facebook app does not share the same login credentials as Facebook for HTC Sense.

Twitter for HTC Sense

If you signed in to your Twitter account when you turned on and set up HTC Flyer for the first time, that means your Twitter account is linked to Twitter for HTC Sense on HTC Flyer. (If you did not do this, add the Twitter for HTC Sense account in Settings > Accounts & sync.)

With Twitter for HTC Sense, you can:

- Link your contacts in People to their Twitter profiles (if you’re following them).
- Send tweets and check your friends’ tweets in Friend Stream.

Twitter for HTC Sense and the Twitter app do not share the same login credentials. Signing in to Twitter for HTC Sense does not sign you in to the Twitter app and vice versa. If you want to use the same Twitter account for both, you’ll have to sign in to both using the same login credentials.
Using Friend Stream

Friend Stream connects you to your social networks. Share and get updates from friends in popular networks like Facebook and Twitter in a single feed. With Friend Stream, you can easily track your friends’ status messages, photo uploads, notifications, and more — or comment and post your own.

Internet connections

Data connection

When you turn on HTC Flyer for the first time, it will be automatically set up to use your mobile operator’s data connection (if the SIM card is inserted).

Checking the data connection you’re using

1. From the Home screen, press 📱, and then tap Settings > Wireless & networks.
2. Tap Mobile networks > Network operators or Access Point Names.

Turning the data connection on or off

Turning your data connection off can help save battery life and save money on data charges. However, if you don’t have data connection turned on and you’re also not connected to a Wi-Fi network, you won’t receive automatic updates to your email, social network accounts, and other synchronized information.

1. From the Home screen, press 📱, and then tap Settings > Wireless & networks.
2. Select the Mobile network check box to turn on the data connection; clear the check box to turn off the data connection.

Adding a new access point

Before you add another data connection, have the access point name and settings (including username and password if required) from your mobile operator ready.

1. From the Home screen, press 📱, and then tap Settings > Wireless & networks.
2. Tap Mobile networks > Access Point Names.
3. On the APNs screen, press 📱 and then tap New APN.
4. On the Edit access point screen, enter the APN settings. Tap an APN setting item to edit it.
5. Press 📱 and then tap Save.
Enabling data roaming

Connect to your mobile operator’s partner networks and access data services when you’re out of your mobile operator’s coverage area.

Using data services while roaming will be costly. Check with your mobile operator for data roaming rates before you use data roaming.

1. From the Home screen, press  and then tap Settings > Wireless & networks.
2. Tap Mobile networks, and then select the Data roaming check box.

Select the Data roaming sound check box if you’d like HTC Flyer to play a sound so you’ll know when it’s connecting to a roaming network.

Wi-Fi

To use Wi-Fi, you need access to a wireless access point or “hotspot”. The availability and strength of the Wi-Fi signal will vary depending on objects, such as buildings or simply a wall between rooms, the Wi-Fi signal has to pass through.

Turning Wi-Fi on and connecting to a wireless network

1. From the Home screen, press  and then tap Settings > Wireless & networks.
2. Select the Wi-Fi check box to turn Wi-Fi on.
   HTC Flyer then scans for available wireless networks.
3. Tap Wi-Fi settings.
   Detected Wi-Fi networks will be listed in the Wi-Fi networks section.

   If the wireless network that you want is not listed, tap Add Wi-Fi network to manually add it.

4. Tap the Wi-Fi network you want to connect to.

   If you selected a secured network, you’ll be asked to enter the network key or password.

5. Tap Connect.

When HTC Flyer is connected to the wireless network, the Wi-Fi icon  appears in the status bar and tells you the approximate signal strength (number of bands that light up).

The next time HTC Flyer connects to a previously accessed secured wireless network, you won’t be asked to enter the key or other security information again, unless you reset HTC Flyer to its factory default settings.
Connecting to a Wi-Fi network with EAP-TLS security

You may need to install a network certificate (*.p12) to HTC Flyer before you can connect to a Wi-Fi network with EAP-TLS authentication protocol.

1. Save the certificate file to the root folder of the storage card.
2. From the Home screen, press ☰️, and then tap Settings > Security.
3. Tap Install from SD card.
4. Select the network certificate needed to connect to the EAP-TLS network.
5. Turn on Wi-Fi and connect to a wireless network.

Checking the wireless network status

1. From the Home screen, press ☰️, and then tap Settings > Wireless & networks.
2. On the Wireless & networks screen, tap Wi-Fi settings, and then tap the wireless network that HTC Flyer is currently connected to.

A message box is then displayed showing the Wi-Fi network name, status, speed, signal strength, and more.

If you want to remove the settings for this network, tap Forget. If you want to reconnect to a wireless network that you have removed, you’ll need to choose the wireless network from the list of available Wi-Fi networks again. If it is a secured wireless network, you’ll need to enter the wireless network credentials again.

Connecting to another Wi-Fi network

1. From the Home screen, press ☰️, and then tap Settings > Wireless & networks.
2. Tap Wi-Fi settings. Detected Wi-Fi networks are displayed in the Wi-Fi networks section.
3. To manually scan for available Wi-Fi networks, on the Wi-Fi screen, press ☰️, and then tap Scan.

Connecting to a virtual private network (VPN)

Add, set up, and manage virtual private networks (VPNs) so you can connect and access resources inside a secured local network, such as your corporate network.

Depending on the type of VPN you’re using at work, you may be asked to enter your login credentials and install security certificates before you can connect to your company’s local network. You can get this information from your network administrator.

Also, HTC Flyer must first establish a Wi-Fi or data connection before you can start a VPN connection.

Setting up secure credential storage

If your network administrator tells you to download and install security certificates, you must first set up secure credential storage on HTC Flyer.

1. From the Home screen, press ☰, and then tap Settings > Security.
2. Tap Set password.
3. Enter a new password for the credential storage.
4. Scroll down and confirm the password, and then tap OK.
5. Select the Use secure credentials check box.

You can then download and install the certificates needed to access your local network. Your network administrator can tell you how to do this.

You can then open the web browser to access resources such as your corporate network intranet.

Disconnecting from a VPN

1. Press and hold the title bar, and then slide down your finger to open the Notifications panel.
2. Tap the VPN connection to return to the VPN settings screen, and then tap the VPN connection to disconnect from it.

When HTC Flyer has disconnected from the VPN, the VPN disconnected icon 🔄 is displayed in the notification area of the title bar.

Using HTC Flyer as a modem (USB tethering)

No Internet connection available for your computer? No problem. Use the Internet connection of HTC Flyer to connect to the Internet.

Before you can use your computer as a modem, be sure to install HTC Sync on your computer first.

1. Make sure your computer is connected to the Internet.

Two things to check for your computer’s Internet connection. One, you may need to turn off your local network’s firewall. Two, if your computer connects to the Internet via PPP (e.g. Dial UP, xDSL, or VPN), Internet Pass-through will only support TCP protocol.

2. Connect HTC Flyer to the computer using the provided USB cable.

3. On the Choose a connection type screen, select Internet pass-through, and then tap Done.

Using HTC Flyer as a wireless router

Share your data connection with other devices by turning HTC Flyer into a wireless router.

The pairing and connection status is displayed below the hands-free headset or car kit name in the Bluetooth devices section. When the Bluetooth headset or car kit is connected to HTC Flyer, the Bluetooth connected icon \( \heartsuit \) is displayed in the status bar. Depending on the type of headset or car kit you have connected, you can then start using the headset or car kit.

Where sent information is saved

When you send information using Bluetooth, the location where it’s saved depends on the type of information and the receiving device.

If you send a calendar event or contact, it is normally added directly to the corresponding application on the receiving device. For example, if you send a calendar event to a compatible phone, the event is shown in that phone’s calendar application.

If you send another file type to a Windows computer, it is normally saved in the Bluetooth Exchange folder within your personal document folders.

- On Windows XP, the path may be: C:\Documents and Settings\[your username]\My Documents\Bluetooth Exchange
- On Windows Vista, the path may be: C:\Users\[your username]\Documents
- On Windows 7, the path may be: C:\Users\[your username]\My Documents \Bluetooth Exchange Folder

If you send a file to another device, the saved location may depend on the file type. For example, if you send an image file to another mobile phone, it may be saved in a folder named “Images.”

- For a vCalendar file, choose the calendar where you want to save the event, and then tap Import. The vCalendar is added to your Calendar events.
- For a vCard contact file, you can choose to import one, several, or all of those contacts to your contacts list.

Update and reset

Software updates

From time to time, software updates for HTC Flyer may be available. HTC Flyer can check and then notify you if there’s a new update. You can then download and install the software update using the Wi-Fi or data connection. You can also manually check if there’s an available software update.

Depending on the type of update, the update may erase all your personal data and customized settings, and also remove any applications you’ve installed. Make sure that you’ve backed up the information and files you want to keep.

Checking and downloading software updates may incur extra data fees.

Installing an update

Make sure HTC Flyer has a storage card inserted. The update will be downloaded to the storage card.

1. Do any of the following after HTC Flyer receives a software update:
   - If the display is on and you’re not using any application, the Install system software update dialog box appears on screen. Select Install now, and then tap OK.
   - If you don’t see the dialog box, check for the update notification icon in the status bar. When you see the icon, slide open the Notifications panel, and then tap the update notification.

2. Wait for the update to download and install on HTC Flyer. When the update is finished, HTC Flyer will automatically restart.

Checking for updates manually

2. Tap About tablet > Software updates > Check now.

1. If the display is off, press the POWER button to turn it back on.
2. Unlock the display.
3. Press and hold the POWER button, and then tap Restart.
4. When asked to confirm, tap Restart.

Resetting HTC Flyer

Do a factory reset to return HTC Flyer to its original state before the first time you turned it on.

If you’re passing HTC Flyer on to someone else or HTC Flyer has a persistent problem that cannot be solved, you can perform a factory reset (also called a hard reset). Factory reset is not a step to be taken lightly. It’ll permanently delete all your data and customized settings, and will remove any applications you’ve downloaded and installed. Be sure to back up any data and files you want to keep before you do a factory reset.

Performing a factory reset via settings

The most convenient way to do a factory reset is via the settings.

1. From the Home screen, press ☰, and then tap Settings.
